

Case Study

- ❖ A major health insurance company seeks to accelerate development of a core, SaaS offering by way of creating a high-powered 'tiger team' to execute on the key requirements of the business

Client: A major health insurance company

Industry: Healthcare

Talented Solutions: -Staff Augmentation
-Custom Application Development

The Opportunity: Given resource utilization constraints of the internal development organization, business leadership sought to partially outsource the development of a key medical coding and billing application in order to accelerate delivery to meet key market needs.

The Response: People Driven Solutions partnered with business and technology leadership within the firm to provide a team of seven resources including User Experience, User Interface Design and ever-scarce Silverlight Developers, all of which were on boarded and productive in under three weeks' time from the date of initial request of the business. PDSI leveraged its deep network of local and national technical talent, partnerships and internal project management capabilities to successfully orchestrate this effort.

The Result: PDSI was able to support the client to deliver a mission critical project ahead of schedule. People Driven Solutions continues to be a trusted partner of the firm and looks forward to continuing to serve its needs in the years to come.
